Passage A

One day, Maki was talking with her friends about the students' club. Maki wanted to be a chairperson of the students' club, so she decided to raise her hand and volunteer to be a chairperson. However, she was told that girls can't become a chairperson. She was surprised and asked why. The teacher said that it is because of the tradition of the school. For the last 50 years, only boys had wanted to be the chairperson. Maki said that it wasn't right. Everyone should be able to become a chairperson. After that, she started to talk to many teachers and students to try to change the tradition.

A week later, she became the students' club chairperson with many supporters. She was the first girl chairperson in 50 years. She showed everyone that nothing is impossible if you try hard. She was a great leader and she made school a better place for everyone.
